

ANG 6930:
Societal Collapse

DR. MICHAEL E. MOSELEY

Office: Turlington B356

Office Phone: 352-392-2031, ext. 231

Email: moseley@anthro.ufl.edu

This is a free-style, seminar course, which, as the name implies, discusses the reasons behind the collapse of world civilizations, focusing largely on the role of environmental change and natural disasters. Each week students will read and discuss various works that fall under this general topic. Readings are selected by students in the course, or by the instructor in discussion with students.

No formal syllabus has been constructed for this course this semester.